SUBSTITUTE FOR RENNET.

Nature has, it appears, provided an admirable substitute for rennet in the manufacture of cheese, the article being the berry of the plant known to botanists as Withania coagulans. This shrub thrives in India, and has long been used by the Belooches and Afghans to curdle milk. But its complete efficacy was not demonstrated until lately, when the berry was officially experimented with at a farm belonging to Sir James Ferguson, the present Governor of Bombay. The report published by the Government says that a complete success was achieved, a perfect curd being produced, and the cheese turning out excellent in every respect. The method of preparing the purifier—so is the berry called, from the Persian name of cheese—is to put some berries into a small quantity of cold water, and to allow this to simmer by the side of a fire for 12 hours. At the end of that time about half the decoction will suffice to curdle 55 gallons of milk, the quantity of berries employed being two ounces. With a view to the more extended cultivation of the shrub, an experimental plantation is about to be established at the Government Botanical Gardens. Perhaps it may be found to also have a medicinal value as an astringent; the natives in the northwest seem to have used it for other purposes than cheese-making.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Boston Advertiser gives the following definition of an interview, and one which is correct in every particular: An interview is a modern invention good naturally adopted by newspapers to enable public men to put their ideas before the public without assuming the responsibility for them, and in a form to be repudiated as the inaccurate work of the reporter in case the views do not "take."

The Verdi bridge matter is one which is entitled to the consideration of the Board. The GAZETTE respectfully suggests that the Commissioners look into the matter and assist our neighbors to build a bridge, so that they can come to Reno without endangering their lives by driving over the treacherous "sand grade."

From the statement of the Enterprise itself we feel warranted in insisting on our original statement, that the one at Beowawe is at present Nevada's only geyser. It says the springs at Steamboat spouted last in 1863. It is hardly likely that any one will rank them now in the list of geysers.

If Irish informers continue their testimony at the present rate they will depopulate Ireland.

Sudden Insanity From Reverses Causes Suicide.

SAN BERNARDINO, April 26. R. W. Clarke, residing about 30 miles east of this town, arose from bed some time during last night and went out of doors. At 5 o'clock this morning his body was found some 60 yards from the house with his throat cut from ear to ear, the razor lying by his side. He was formerly a lumber merchant in Suisun, but met with reverses. Sudden insanity seems to be the only cause.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 26.

Dispatched from Cavigsburg, Ohio, say that a place near there known as the Center of the World was the scene this morning of a terrible double tragedy. A man named DeLong killed a woman named Griswold and then committed suicide. It appears that DeLong had asked the woman to marry him, but Mrs. Griswold positively refused, and he determined that she should marry no one else. So this morning he called at the residence of Wm. Allen, where the victim was employed, and asked to see her. As soon as she appeared he opened fire on her with a revolver which he had in his hand. The first two shots took effect in her head and the third in her side. DeLong then placed the muzzle of the revolver to his temple and fired, falling dead within three feet of the prostrate body of Mrs. Griswold.

A Lively Quarter Dash.

This forenoon at Lee's stable a knot of loungers got to discussing the comparative merits of Bradley's Ballot-Box and Lee's Coyote, and as both are good horses it took but a minute to make a match for a quarter-mile dash, for enough money to make the matter interesting, and the animals were ready in a few minutes. Jim Doherty was on the poop-deck of Ballot-Box and Tom Keating straddled Coyote's ridge-pole. After a few starts they got off well together, and until within 40 yards of the score Bradley's pet looked as if he would take the persimmon; but just then Coyote put in a few of his peculiar grayhound leaps and came out a short distance ahead. It was a pretty little race, what there was of it.

THE COLONEL.

United States Senator Fair's Domestic Troubles Unveiled by a San Francisco Reporter.

The Chicago Herald publishes the following bit of gossip in its telegraphic columns, under a San Francisco date: The story of the Nevada millionaire's domestic troubles has been an open secret in Western Nevada for two years. The excitement of yesterday over the reported attempt of young "Jimmy" Fair to lay his Senatorial pants out in the cold embrace of death has somewhat subsided. To-day Colonel Fair denies that the boy is in town, and says that he has been at Paso Robles Springs, 230 miles south of here, for a week. Mrs. Fair confirms this, but declines to say anything further about the difficulties in the Fair family. The scandals thus let loose are not new by any means, and until the sensation of yesterday, were not openly talked of, but it is known that the Senator and his family have been more or less at loggerheads for a couple of years past. The trouble consists chiefly in the somewhat open way that

"SLIPPERY JIM."

Of the millions, violates the teachings of the seventh commandment. While the Senator was running the bonanza mines and lived in Virginia City, Nev., these shortcomings were to a degree concealed, but since he has come out in the world, and especially since he went to Washington, the Senator is alleged to have displayed the cloven foot in all its moral hideousness. The burlly Senator is said to be especially abusive and neglectful of his wife, who is a most estimable lady, but one who does not show a disposition to suffer in silence. She is a portly lady, with flashing black eyes, and a will of considerable horse-power, and when the Senator gets caught in some new peccadillo she has a way of sultrifying the air about his head that leads to

SULPHURUS REMARKS.

On occasions like this the Senator himself turns accuser, and charges the good lady with unseemliness of conduct, which all who know her believe to be false. When the Senator gets very wroth and very reckless of speech, he even intimates that John Mackay has more influence about his (Fair's) house than he has himself. On one occasion, just after the Senator had taken his seat in Congress, Mrs. Fair went to Washington unexpectedly, and there found it is alleged, that the Senator had set up a little establishment, which, though small, might have been the envy of Ismail Pasha, ex-Khedive of Egypt. All it needed was a half-dozen eunuchs and a chibouk or two to make it a barem complete. This was the occasion on which the gossips say, the excellent lady rose equal to the emergency. She didn't say anything to the Colonel just then, but she laid her plans, and in a few days, with the aid of a trusty friend and a few pounds of moral dynamite, she invaded the seraglio, and the inmates fled to New York with the fleetness of wild young gazelles of the plains.

THE FIERCENESS OF THE EXPLOSION.

Broke the Colonel all up, but he fell back on his ancient privilege of abuse, and adopted a new course, too. He shut down on madame's base of supplies. The lady wanted to return to San Francisco and plaster up her lacerated feelings. The Colonel swore he wouldn't give her a cent, and he didn't. Then she said he needn't; she would borrow all she wanted from his friends. She had some money, and with that she started with her children and servants. Her money took her to some point in Nevada. There she tackled the first friend of her husband she met and got off with him, and got off well together, and until within 40 yards of the score Bradley's pet looked as if he would take the persimmon; but just then Coyote put in a few of his peculiar grayhound leaps and came out a short distance ahead. A Joke on Tourists.

Thomas C. and J. F. Gale of Vermont, old railroad conductors, are on a visit to Reno and vicinity, to see what the people know about the business. Last night they stopped at the Palace, and, according to the eastern custom, put their boots outside the doors of their rooms to be "shined." Tom Clarke and Charley Thrall took them away and replaced them with Chinese cork shoes labeled "C. P. snow plows," and the innocent victims of the joke had to tramp around quite a while before they found their boots.

AIR BRAKES ON FREIGHT CARS.

The Central Pacific is trying automatic brakes on freight trains. The 47 went to Ogden this morning equipped with pumps and pipes. The arrangements are such that if the cars separate the brake is applied and the detached portion stops.

THE NEW VALVES.

Engine 48 is out of the shops and has been on a trial trip. Her new system of valves is said to work well, and she is expected to be entirely satisfactory. She is the engine whose engine can run an oven; and as for the fair sex, he can scent the bouquet of millefleurs clear across the Alps. The boys laughed when Joe set sail with young Fair as chaperone and moral instructor. But little is known here of the tour. The "old man" drew checks till even he got tired, and then called the boy and his "tooter" home. Since then young Jim has kept his excesses pretty well out of sight of the public, but unless a change for the better comes he will hardly reflect credit upon his illustrious sire, or take very good care of the fortune that awaits him.

Colonel Ellis has brought suit in Douglas county to have a receiver appointed for the N. & O. R. until his judgment is satisfied. The case is set for June 22d.

It is estimated that there are about 225,000 head of stock cattle in Nevada. The ranges are by no means unstocked and the capacity of the State is equal to another 100,000.

A GOOD DAY.

Evans brothers bought several hundred head of cattle in Nye county the other day for $16 per head.

THE BAPTIST BENEFIT.

A Financial Success—The Church Realized a Handsome Sum—All Well Pleased.

Every seat was taken at the Pavilion last night and many were standing during the singing, which was well received. Mr. Tallman had drilled a chorus in old fashioned ways and they were dressed in ancient costumes: Mrs. Cutting sang "Auld Lang Syne" with a delicious brogue, which aroused a suspicion that she has some "Scotch blood in herself." Miss Epler's voice is well-cultivated and her methods are excellent. She sang two very pretty songs. Miss McNeely's "Last Rose of Summer" was well received. Her voice is sweet, and practice would give her more confidence. Miss Ranous and Finley Cook repeated "Flirting in the Park." Mr. Hatch thanked the audience for their attendance, and the singers for their services, particularly Mr. Tallman, who took great interest and devoted much time to the chorus. The receipts on Tuesday night were $75 and last night $90. Mr. Hatch requests the GAZETTE to thank all who aided in the affair, and Mr. Chamberlain in a special manner, for generously donating the use of the hall.

TRUCKEE NOTES.

Scrapes of Interest From a Section of Our Common Country.

The Republican of April 25 contains the following interesting jots:

Colonel Irons will begin the construction of his track and appurtenances this week.

Mrs. Maggie Campbell has rented the Webster Lake property for the coming season.

George Schaffer will commence the work of re-building his new mill as soon as the weather permits.

The late storm will probably delay the commencement of work on the road between Hot Springs and Martlette & Folsom's camp for several days.

The Cornelian Hot Sulphur Springs at Lake Tahoe have been leased by ex-Supervisor A. A. Bayley of El Dorado county. It is his intention to open the house on or before the 1st of May.

It is reported that at the meeting at Quincy on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock were subscribed for providing a race track.

The dairymen are removing their cows from the valleys to mountain ranges at least three weeks earlier than last year. Grass has made a good start, and with the usual amount of Spring rains the pasture will be better and last longer than last season. The grass had made but little start until after the rains were over; the ground dried out early and the dairying season was short.

JUSTICE IN THE MOUNTAINS.

The lawyers and Justice of the Peace of Sierraville must be a hard set. Last Friday the Justice had a man up before him charged with fraudulent concealment of property. The counsel for the defendant, says the Greenville Bulletin, demanded as his fee all the money the man had except enough to pay his stage fare out of the valley when he should be discharged. The Judge was informed of this fact, and when he got the man before him he made him stand over what the lawyer had left and his watch besides, to meet the court costs. It was lucky for the poor devil that there is a newspaper in the place. When released he had not enough to pay for a supper until the editor gave him half a dollar. It may be well to remark that the generous editor was the afore-mentioned attorney in the case.

A PUZZLED CLERK.

Appalling Hieroglyphics on a Hotel Register.

A hotel register often exhibits some erratic hieroglyphics, especially when a man has been "out late with the boys" and comes in late for a bed, with his head playing peg-top and his legs as limber as wet dish-cloths. Then he thinks he can write better than any other time, and endeavours to astonish the clerk by indulging in wild flourishes that conceal his signature and puzzle all who have occasion to examine the register. The book at the Palace bears two of these curiosities, which palled Bill Wimer this morning when he came to copy them. Bystanders were requested to assist in solving the puzzles, and all took a hand at the problem. After wrestling long and earnestly and analyzing the hieroglyphics in all their phases, it was at last concluded that the names were those of two well known men of Wadsworth, who came to Reno to have some fun with the boys and got paralyzed off at the "sugaring off" last night. They are now probably trying to find out the difference between sobering off and sugaring off.

OMAHA WEEKLY BEE

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS.

Since the distribution of premiums is over and our premium list closed until next year, we are yet anxious to increase the circulation of the WEEKLY BEE to such a number as to greatly reduce the cost of the paper and to furnish it to our subscribers at a mere nominal price. In order to do so we offer the same for the balance of the year, until January 1, 1884, for ONE DOLLAR. This is the lowest price ever asked for a western journal of its size, and all should avail themselves of this liberal offer.
